

Will Hays signs contract for his new job with the National Organization of Motion Picture Producers. Producers Smith and Fox behind Hays' chair. The Postmaster General takes up his new work with the movies on March 4.

International.

The wonderful bells of the Buddhist pagoda at Prome, Burma, where one of the religious customs is to ring a bell each time a worshiper leaves the pagoda, completing a record of his devotion and making the fact known to his neighbors.

Underwood & Underwood.

One of the most attractive bathing suits of the Palm Beach season was brought out recently by Miss Mary Brown Warburton of Philadelphia. The long sleeves are expected to prove popular.

International.

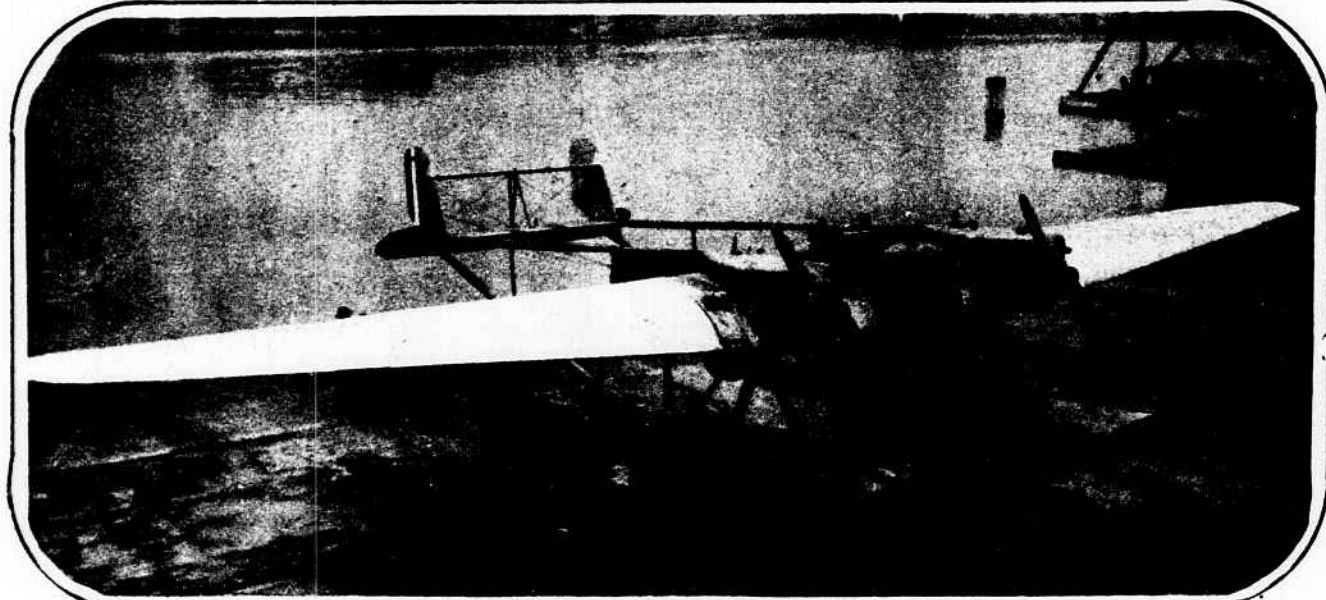

Mrs. Alexander P. Moore, better known as Lillian Russell, sails for Europe, having been appointed a United States immigration inspector. She is serving without pay and is to make an analysis of conditions abroad. Photo taken with her husband aboard the S. S. George Washington.

Underwood & Underwood.

President Harding is handed a brick—but it is neatly engraved with an invitation for the chief executive to attend a meeting of the National Bricklayers' Association in Indianapolis. The unique invitation, in a wooden case, was presented by William H. Lucktenberg of Zanesville, Ohio.

National.

New naval Curtiss bombing plane of the C. T. torpedo type, carrying two 400-horsepower motors, which is being tried out at the naval air station, Washington. The plane has a carrying capacity of 1,650 pounds of explosives and the wings have a sixty-five-foot span.

Children placing a wreath at the statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee in Statuary Hall of the Capitol in honor of the Confederate leader's birthday.

A new miniature of Secretary of State Hughes by H. W. Brannock of 1410 Hopkins place.

Mrs. Morgan Anderson, sixty years old, who walked to Washington from her home in Sioux City, Iowa, to ask the aid of President Harding in securing the release of her son, who is serving a term in Leavenworth prison for desertion.

Frank McGlynn, who plays the part of Abraham Lincoln in John Drinkwater's play of that name, visits President Harding at the White House. Mr. McGlynn is accompanied by his wife and daughter Mary Rose.

National Photo.

National Photo.